

A Guide for Understanding APTC Grace Periods

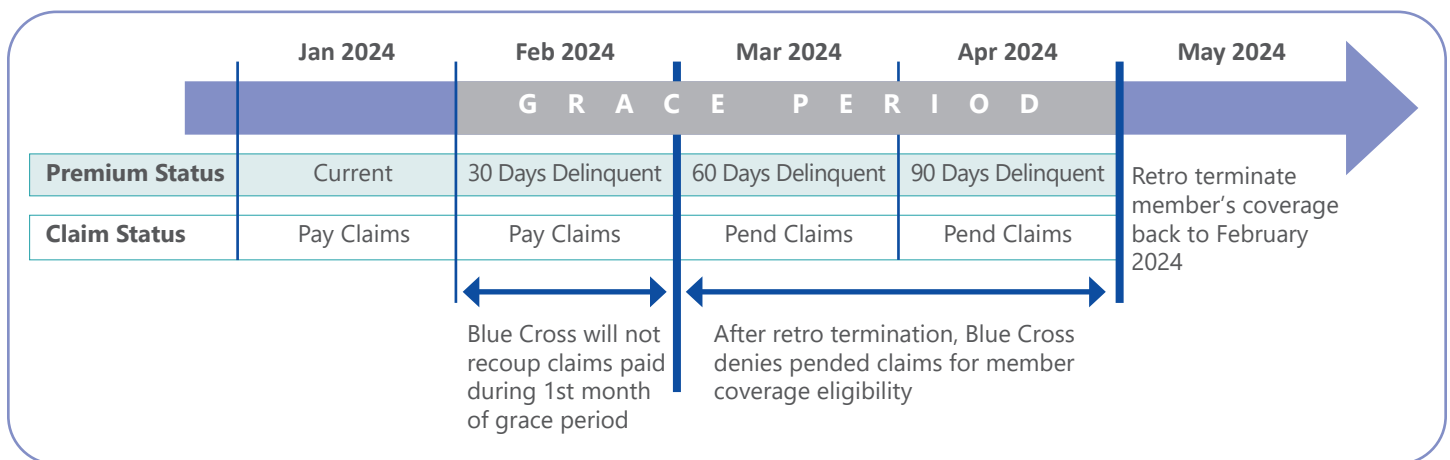

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) allows eligible customers to receive an advanced premium tax credit (APTC) to help with premium costs. To be eligible for the APTC subsidy, Louisianans must not have access to other types of coverage (from an employer, Medicare or Medicaid) and must apply for it, which is done through the healthcare “Marketplace” (also called “the exchange”). Open enrollment occurs each year for individuals, families and small businesses.

One feature of the APTC is that customers are given a three-month premium payment grace period to help when they have delinquent premium payments. This feature is a standard ACA requirement, regardless of the customer’s healthcare carrier.

After the three-month period of not paying the premium, the APTC member’s policy will terminate, effective to the 30-day delinquent date. Claims paid during the first month of delinquency will remain paid. Claims pending for months two and three will be denied for eligibility.

Once claims are denied for services rendered during the second and third months of the grace period, the provider may then seek reimbursement directly from the member up to the billed charge amount(s). If you have already collected the allowed amount(s) from the member, you may then collect the amounts still owed to you up to your billed charges.

Sample Grace Period Scenario

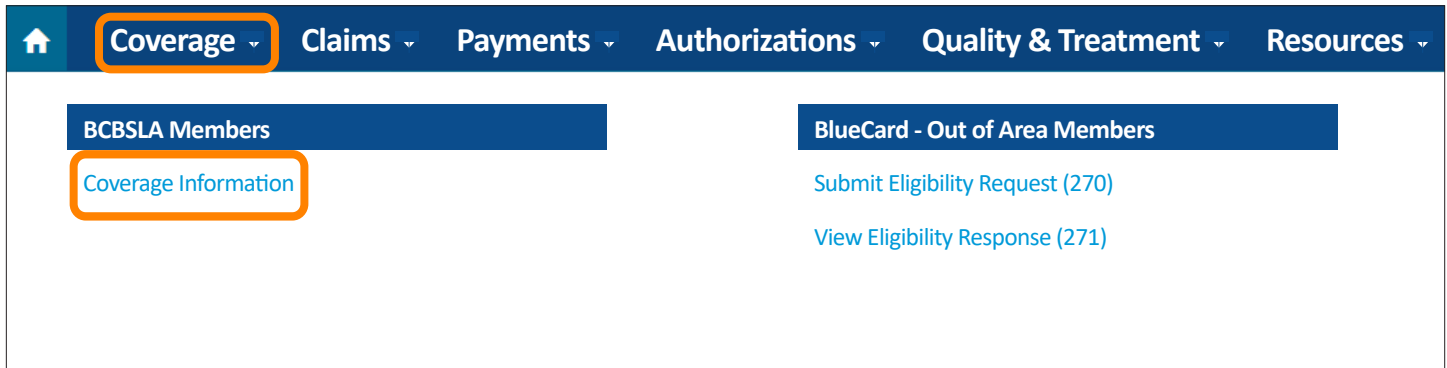

Providers can research APTC premium status information for Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Louisiana members in iLinkBlue (www.bcbsla.com/ilinkblue) or by electronic inquires submitted to the Blue Cross Clearinghouse. The ensuing pages of this tidbit have instructions for researching any APTC grace periods a member may have.

1. Research an APTC Member's Coverage Status in iLinkBlue

Under the Coverage menu option in iLinkBlue, select the Coverage Information link for BCBSLA Members.

Enter the BCBSLA member's contract number, which is the member ID number, then press "Search." If you do not have the member ID number, you may also search using the subscriber's Social Security number.

The search results will display one of the following contract statuses when the member has an active APTC:

Active Coverage

— means the APTC member is NOT delinquent OR within the first month of being delinquent on their premium payment.

Active Pending Premium Payment

— means the APTC member is within the second or third months of being delinquent on their premium payments.

The subscriber referenced above purchased one of our plans through the Marketplace and currently receives an advanced premium tax credit, or APTC, which are federal funds to help with his or her health plan premiums. Members who receive these tax credits are entitled by law to a three-month grace period during which they must pay their outstanding premiums. We must inform you that the subscriber (and dependents, as applicable) is currently in the second month of this three-month grace period.

What is the three-month premium grace period?
 Under the Affordable Care Act(ACA), individuals who buy health insurance through the Marketplace and receive this tax credit (also called a subsidy) will have a three-month grace period to pay their outstanding premiums.

According to the ACA law, we may not disenroll members for non-payment of premiums during this grace period. Claims incurred during the first month of this grace period are paid, but claims incurred during the second and third months of the grace period must pend until the members pay their premiums, as applicable.

What this means to you:

•Claims which were paid in the first month:
 If a claim was incurred during the first month of the member’s grace period and we processed and paid this claim, then we will not take this payment back at the end of the grace period.

On the Coverage Information screen is the Summary button, which allows you to view the member's Medical Benefits Summary (a detailed health benefit summary that includes deductible and out-of-pocket amounts) and coordination of benefits (COB). This screen also indicates the APTC status if the member is in a grace period.

The screenshot shows the 'Coverage Information' screen for contract XUA123456789. It displays details for 'John Doe', a subscriber, including his address, sex, and marriage status. The 'Medical Benefits Summary' is also visible, showing copay amounts for various services like Office Visit ($30.00), Office Visit Specialist ($45.00), and Outpatient Surgical ($500.00).

2. Research an APTC Member's Claims in iLinkBlue

Under the Claims menu option in iLinkBlue, select Claims Status Search to research claims based on either the member policy type or by claim number. iLinkBlue includes an option in the Pended claims search category for claims pended specifically for the "APTC Grace Period."

The screenshot shows the 'Claims Status' search interface. Under the 'Pended' tab, the 'Claim Number' sub-tab is selected. Step 1 shows a dropdown menu for 'Select a Provider'. Step 2 shows radio button options for 'Narrow Your Search', with 'APTC Grace Period' selected and circled in orange. Step 3 shows 'Date of Service' fields for 'From' and 'To' (05/16/2024). A 'Search' button is located at the bottom right.

Select the "APTC Grace Period" category then click the Search button. This will bring you to the Pended Claims Result screen to view all of the provider's pended claims for members in their APTC grace period.

3. Research an APTC Member's Coverage Status Through Electronic Transactions (27x)

To inquire about eligibility and benefits electronically, submit a 270 Eligibility Benefit Inquiry. For APTC members with a policy that is pending for premium payment, the 271 Response will include the following:

premium paid to date end - (found on loop 2100C/D DTP) - This is the last day of coverage for which a premium payment has been received and applied. This is the last day of active coverage or the day before the beginning of the grace period. It is displayed in the 271 Response as code 343.

grace period start date - (found on loop 2110C/D DTP) - This is the first day of the grace period. It is displayed in the 271 Response as code 193.

grace period end date - (found on loop 2110C/D DTP) - This is the last day of the grace period. It is displayed in the 271 Response as code 194.

grace period informational message - (found on loop 2110C/D DTP below the grace period start and end dates) - This is an informational field on the 271 response that indicates the subject of the data in fields above. It is displayed in the 271 Response as HIX GRACE PERIOD (HIX - health insurance exchange).

The 271 Response also includes Blue Cross' HPID (unique health plan identification) number. Also included with the HPID is the product name. Blue Cross has two HPIDs as follows:

HPID 7598768720 - for HMO Louisiana, Inc. policies

HPID 7780687910 - for Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Louisiana policies
